After Thanksgiving— The King of Christmas

King Christmas will rule the world during the next four weeks.

He is a sort of magician like the Oriental monarch. He spreads Eastern carpets on the bare floors, opens up the jewel caskets, provides fine linens and hangings and anything else that is in his power—if somebody only tells him what is wanted.

King Christmas has but to say the word, and the old and shabby carpet that you have meant to replace, disappears and a new rug or a new carpet to cover the whole floor takes its place.

He waves his scepter, and the empty china closet is filled with just the right piece, or the side-board gleams with the long desired pieces of silver.

As the fashion for giving practical gifts grows practical, he would suggest Waists, Petticoats, Hosiery, Muslinwear, and fine Fur Sets as splendid gifts, but somebody must tell him.

Often and often we hear King Christmas asking what is the best to do next and it is a rare case when we are not able to help him out.

Yes, right here in this store is better than any year before.

A Sewing Machine Is An Investment Of a Lifetime
